

IBEX - International Biotechnology Experts

Organisation of International Conferences

Do you wish to organise an international conference?

IBEX can provide you with a comprehensive conference organisation package

IBEXPERTS Ltd. ("IBEX") is a company specializing in the initiation, organisation and management of international biotechnology projects. As part of these activities, IBEX organises international conferences.

IBEX will...

- work with the organisers to define the objectives of the conference and its target audience
- aid in the allocation of speakers
- arrange logistics (lecturing halls, flights and accommodation, transportation, catering etc.)
- formulate a budget and engage in fund raising
- arrange cultural entertainment and tourist activities

IBEX's track record...

- first meeting of EC-funded Bird-flu Research Projects (2009), a three-day conference in Barcelona, Spain, attended by one hundred participants belonging to five separately funded FP6 project consortia from across Europe
- international EU consortium meeting on avian influenza (2008) which included a two-day scientific and managerial meeting as well as tours of Israel
- international brain storming meetings (2007-2009) in Israel and in Europe attended by participants from European and Mediterranean countries
- organisation of a Greek National conference (2005) at which representatives of the Greek government, academia and industry participated
